

A Note on

Online Training Module for IFS Probationers of 2019 and 2020 batch

Online Training Module was conducted by Institute of Forest Genetics and Tree Breeding (IFGTB), Coimbatore to the IFS Probationers of 2019 and 2020 Batch of Indira Gandhi National Forest Academy (IGNFA), Dehra Dun on 14th June 2021. The programme was started with address by Dr. C. Kunhikannan, Director, IFGTB followed by screening of the Documentary Film on IFGTB. There were four lectures delivered to the IFS Probationers. The first lecture was on “Increasing Wood Production through Varietal Development and Commercialization” by Dr. A. Nicodemus, Scientist-G, Division of Genetics and Tree Improvement, IFGTB. The second lecture was delivered by Dr. R. Yasodha, Scientist-G, Division of Plant Biotechnology & Cytogenetics, IFGTB on “Role of Biotechnology in Forestry”. Thirdly, Dr. C. Buvaneswaran, Scientist-F, Division of Silviculture & Forest Management, IFGTB delivered on “Highlights of Agroforestry Research In IFGTB”. The fourth lecture was on “Taxonomical Applications in Forestry” delivered by Dr. C. Kunhikannan, Director, IFGTB. Dr. S. Senthil Kumar, IFS, Additional Professor, IGNFA and Sh. Venkatesh Prabhu, IFS, Faculty IGNFA co-ordinated the programme. Shri Bharat Jyoti, IFS, Director, IGNFA delivered the valedictory address and appreciated the Director IFGTB and the team for the successful conduct of this online training module and opined that such collaboration need to be continued for inculcating research attitude in the IFS probationers.

Lectures delivered by Dr. C. Kunhikannan, Director, IFGTB, Dr. R. Yashoda, Scientist-G, Dr. A. Nicodemus, Scientist-G and Dr. C. Buvaneswaran, Scientist-F

Valedictory Address by Shri Bharat Jyoti, IFS, Director, IGNA

Vote of thanks by Dr. S. Senthil Kumar, IFS, Additional Professor, IGNA